4. The movement of the bar down after receiving the judge's command center "Press". However, if the bar on the chest athlete having a disease of the central nervous system or spinal column due to spastic involuntary body movements and / or hands, had a slight inertial motion up or down, the weight can be good.
5. Any movement with a bias of more than 12 cm / 5 inches, the movement of the arms during lifting. An exception to this rule is made for athletes who, at the weigh-in, declared their impossibility to straighten their arms in their elbow joints.
6. Deliberate contact between the bar and the racks in order to make the lift easier.
7. Any contact of the lifter's feet with the bench or its supports. This rule does not apply to athletes performing Bench Press on a conventional bench in a prosthesis or orthosis / orthotic devices.
8. Help from assistants between the commands of referee.
9. The responsibility for the personal assistant, helping athlete in removing the bar from the racks rests with the athlete. Assistant that helps athlete in removing the bar from the racks , must immediately leave the platform, because it limits the review to the central referee.
